Many More are Expected to Work Under New System Started by Board, Burt M. Rowley Said Today.

Fifty-seven farmers in Polk township have signed up to drag the main-traveled roads in this township, Burt M. Rowley, president of the township board, said this morning. A number of other farmers are expected to agree to drag the roads under the new system inaugurated by the township baord recently, Mr. Rowley said.

This dragging does not apply to the state roads in the township. These are under the supervision of J. E. James, superintendent of maintenance in Nodaway County.

The farmers dragging the main-traveled roads, other than the state roads, are to receive $15 per mile per season for the work. The farmers are to drag the roads at least two rounds after each rain or when conditions are most favorable for good work.

The fifty-seven farmers already signed up have agreed to drag about seventy miles of roads in Polk township, Mr. Rowley said.

"A SINNER CAN DO BETTER"-DR. JAMES

SAYS AT FIRST M. E. CHURCH LAST NIGHT

"DEADLINESS OF SIN"

Is the Subject of His Sermon—Mr. and Mrs. Mills Sing Several Selections.

"Some assert sin is a disease, it tramples upon moral skilfulness, plundering you like a highwayman," said Dr. C. C. James at the First M. E. Church last night. "Have you ever seen people run past the danger signal, they are well meaning people at that. When you are a sinner you are wrong because you can do better," the Doctor continued.

Dr. James spoke on "The Deadliness of Sin" in the series of sermons that is being given at the First M. E. Church, taking for his text James 1:15 "Then lust when it hath conceived, it bringeth forth sin; and sin when it is finished, bringeth forth death." And also from Jeremiah VI:7; "As a fountain casteth out her waters, so she casteth out her wickedness; Violence and spoil are in her. Before me continually is grief and wounds."

At the services last night Mrs. E. C. Mills gave a whistling solo. The opening number of the evening was "The Sextet" from Lucia by Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Mills. Mr. and Mrs. Mills sang "The Rosary" with sacred words and "The Last Mile of the Way."

The Genesis of Sin

Doctor James in his sermon said "born of desire," though all desires are not sinful. A desire that produces in you an inclination to violate the laws of God. An act that appears doubtful needs careful reasoning before you perform the complete act. Most men know at a glance what is right and what is wrong. There are twelve gates to the city of sin where the human prodigals live; missing the mark, crooked paths that lead to wrong doing, acts of injustice you perform, the fires of rebellion you light in your heart against God, revolt against what we know is right, loss of reverence for God—accepting the temptation that allures, the abnormal anticipation of pleasure, lacking moral courage to say no, loitering near to evil attractions.

Extent of Its Deadly Execution

"'Earth is filled with violence,' they declare 'there is no God; have a good time while you live for you will be dead a long time; there is none that doeth good no not one; all have sinned and come short of the glory of God; wickedness is sweet in his mouth.' In our state penitentiary we have 390 second termers, 120 third termers, fifty fourth termers and one ninth termer. From 1885 to 1915 there were 3583 lynchings. Sin is a deadly thing, there is a carnival of deviltry going on all the time," were the words of Doctor James.

The Doctor said that we sin against ourselves. "Continual resistance to the truth will harden the heart. All men keep a chamber of withered hopes and ambitions and when we lose out with God a principle controls that trust in falsehoods rather than the truth. It was to meet such a condition that God gave Christ to die for men in sin," Doctor James concluded.

The program of the service tonight which starts at 7:30 o'clock:

Solo by Mr. Mills, "Just Serving the Lord in My Weak Way."

A reading by Mrs. Mills, "The Old Red Cradle."

A duet, "Sometimes I Grow Homesick for Heaven."

GOOD ENROLLMENT IN CORN PROJECT

FOR THE FIRST DAY OF ADVOCATING CONTEST

FARMERS SANCTION IT

Premiums at Show Will Depend Upon the Number of Entries of Five Acre Tracts of Corn

The corn improvement project, which is being sponsored in this county by the Farm Bureau, is meeting with a good enrollment of farmers, according to D. W. Frear of the agricultural extension service of the College of Agriculture and R. A. Kinnaird, county extension agent, who were out over a part of the county yesterday.

Nearly every man with whom Mr. Frear and Mr. Kinnaird interviewed yesterday acted favorbaly towards entering the corn contest that is, entering into competition a five acre field of corn which they will plant this year, and dipslay two bushels of the yield at the corn show that will be held in Maryville sometime next December.

More than ten men agreed to enroll in the corn improvement yesterday and several had consented previously to this. It will almost be necessary to secure an enrollment of 100 to 150 farmers in the contest to insure its success. Mr. Frear said this morning that all the farmers they saw yesterday were willing to enter the contest unless they had some definite reason why they would be unable to compete.

Mr. Kinnaird and Mrs. Frear were unable to go out into the county today in the interest of the project due to the sloppy condition of the roads. The Farm Bureau will continue to advocate the better corn project in Nodaway County, which has had such good success in Buchanan and Saline, for the past years and has raised the standard and yield in these sections until they are known as the corn centers of the state. This project is bein advanced by the extension department of the College of Agriculture in eight Northwestern Missouri counties this year in the hopes that the farmers would extend their energies towards producing better and more corn in this section of the state which is considered the richest and most adaptive to the raising of corn.

The time limit for enrolling in the corn improvement project in the state terminates July 1, and before that time Mr. Kinnaird hopes to obtain the consent of about 150 farmers in the county and get them to enroll in this affair.

The premium list at the corn show to determine the winners of the five acre tract contestants will depend upon the number of entries in the contest. A total of sixteen prizes will be awarded. If there are from twenty-five to fifty enrolled the first prize will be $40 and if there is the full quota, the goal of 150 which is the aim of the Farm Bureau, the first prize will be $60, tapering down to the twelfth award which is $10 and the last four $5 a piece. Any standard variety of corn may be entered in the contest.

It is one of stipulations of the contest that each co-operator who is awarded a cash prize at the show shall make a full written report of the manner in which his five acres of corn was grown, giving full particulars as to the preparation of ground, cultivation of the crop, etc., to the county committee before he is awarded the prize.

O'Duffy in Control of Free State Army

Serious Split in Irish Free State Government Officials in Sympathy with "Mutineer Group"

Dublin, March 20—General Owen O'Duffy, former commander of the civilian guard, assumed complete control of the Free State army today, succeeding Gen. Richard Mulcahy who resigned yesterday.

Mulcahy's duties as minister of defense in the Free State may be taken over by President W. T. Cosgrave.

A serious split has been developed within the Free State government and leading officials who formerly opposed the "Mutineer group" of army officials are now sympathetic towards them.

It is probable Mulcahy's resignation will be an open break between the supporters and foes of the Anglo-Irish treaty. An early general election is in prospect.

CLEW IS FOUND IN MYSTERY MURDER

NEGRO JANITOR OWNED KNIFE FOUND NEAR BODY

POLICE ARE BAFFLED

Junkyard Employe, Giving Information This Afternoon, is Called to Headquarters for Questioning

Kansas City, March 20—Dillard Davis, a negro janitor at the "mystery home" in which pretty Dr. Zoe Z. Wilkins was found slashed to death last Tuesday night, owned the rusty knife which was laying beside the murdered body, police were told this afternoon.

The information was regarded as the first tangible clew in the case which has mystified police for two days. Sam Russell, junkyard employe, who gave the information to police, was brought to headquarters for further questioning.

Kansas City, March 20—Peering through the mystery clouding the murder of Dr. Zoe Z. Wilkins whose mutilated body was found in her home Tuesday night, police today sought a man in a large motor car and a Greek restaurant owner.

Letters found in the 'mystery house' today, addressed to "George Mehan" were traced to several addresses. Inquiry at a restaurant listed in the city directory as owned by George Mehan revealed that the man had sold out his interest. No residence address could be found.

Records of a large garage here showed that a George Mehan owned an expensive touring car, but the man could not be located.

Neighbors living near the Wilkins home told of seeing expensive cars parked in front of the doctor's home at all hours of the night.

Police received information from Colorado Springs today saying that a brother living there urged that a Greek be questioned in connection with the mysterious slaying and it was reported that the Greek was a restaurant owner.

"THE LAST MILE OF THE WAY"

The following song in honor of the late President Wilson was composed by Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Mills, who are participating in the special services being conducted at the First M. E. Church. Mr. Mills sang this selection at the service last night.

He has walked in the pathway of duty,
He has worked till the close of the day,
Now he'll meet the Prince of Peace in his beauty,
For he's gone the last mile of the way.
For his country he has earnestly striven,
To bring peace and good will to this day;
Now his soul has gone back to its maker,
For he's gon the last mile of the way.

CHORUS

For he's gone the last mile of the way.
Now he'll rest at the close of the day;
And there's many a reward that awaits him,
For he's gone the last mile of the way.

2ND COACH ADDED NOON BURLINGTON

TO BE TAKEN OFF WHEN ROADS ARE IN GOOD CONDITION

EXTRA CAR ON FRIDAY

To Take Care of College Students—Equipment on Other Trains to Remain Same

J. D. Baker, division passenger agent of the Burlington Railway at St. Joseph, who was in Maryville today, said a second coach was added to the noon passenger train today and would be on the noon train and the afternoon train just as long as the roads are in the condition they are now. With good roads and weather, these passenger trains will only have the one partition cars.

Mr. Baker said there was no intention of cutting down the equipment on the passenger trains running in the morning and evening. These trains will have the two coaches and on Sunday night, the evening passenger will have three coaches.

Mr. Baker stated there would be an extra coach each Friday afternoon for the College students who are going home for the week-end.

It is the contention of the Burlington officials that the one passenger coach on both the noon and afternoon trains is ample to take care of the passengers on these trains. These partition coaches have sixty-eight seats and outside of emergency times will take care of all the passengers. It was stated that from a check made for a period of several days that the average number of passengers on these trains is less than fifty and when the weather is good and the roads are in good shape, this average would be much less.

The Burlington officials contend that on account of the badly reduced local travel, generally due to the automobiles, that they have found it necessary on quite a number of the runs to meet the decreased business by substituting partition cars and there is no apparent reason for hauling surplus equipment.

Late Telegraph News

McPherson, Kan., March 20—Once more Lindsborg is preparing for the annual Messiah festival season, which for the last decade has made that little McPherson county city a magnet for music lovers each Easter week. The big chorus of 500 voices, with the soloists and orchestra, already have spent several weeks in rehearsing for the annual event.

The program arranged for this year holds promise of being even better than the former program, and Lindsborg is looking forward to a record breaking attendance.

Paul Althouse, tenor, and Arthur Middleton, basso, have been secured for the opening concert the afternoon of April 13, when the festival opens. Easter Sunday, Mme. Marie Sundelius will be heard in a recital. During the week a number of recitals by students in both voice and music will be held, as will musical contests of various natures.

St. Louis, March 20—James Huskey came near incurring the maximum sentence at the hands of Judge Calvin N. Miller of the criminal court, because a deputy sheriff mistook him for Joseph Koprowski, charged with deserting his wife and twelve children.

The supposed defendant was placed on trial, and after numerous witnesses testified to his desertion of his family, the court asked him what he had to say.

"Them's not my kids," he stated—but the cold official eye froze him. Here Mrs. Koprowski, whose English was broken, stood up and shook her head.

"Not him," she gestured. Things look dark. It appeared like another "triangle."

"Who do you think I am?" cried out the defendant. "My name is Huskey."

"Mr. Sheriff," the court said dryly, "we are supposed to be trying Joseph Koprowski. See if you can find him."

Russian Envoy Given Passports by Chinese

Ordered to Leave Country as Result of Ultimatum Issued by Soviets of Russia

London, March 20.—The Chinese government has ordered the Russian soviet envoy, M. Karakhan, to leave the country, as a result of the ultimatum served upon China by soviet Russia, demanding China's recognition within two days, said a Pekin dispatch to the Daily Mail today.

A tense situation is developing between China and Japan. The bolsheviki control Mongolia and fears are felt in Pekin that Russia will invade Manchuria. Russian officials allege American and Japanese pressure prevented China from ratifying the Protozol after the Chinese delegates signed it.

POLITICAL DOPE IN UPSET IN RETURNS

M'ADOO LEADS UNDERWOOD IN GEORGIA 4 TO 1

JOHNSON IS TRAILING

Latest Tabulation in North Dakota Puts LaFollette 500 Votes Ahead of California Senator

Atlanta, Ga., March 20—With unofficial returns giving William G. McAdoo a 4-to-1 victory over Senator Oscar Underwood, Democrat of Alabama, his only opponent in the state Presidential primary held in this state yesterday, it was conceded today that Georgia's twenty-eight votes will be pledged to McAdoo at the national convention.

Latest returns from 147 out of 160 counties gave McAdoo 302 county unit votes to Underwood's 80.

Fargo, N. D., March 20—At Hiram Johnson's headquarters here, in a formal statement issued at noon today, the victory of President Coolidge in the North Dakota primary held Tuesday, was conceded. The latest tabulation of returns show that 1,294 out of the 2,058 precincts give: Coolidge 38,960, LaFollette 23,960, and Johnson 23,403.

Washington, March 20.—Politicians of the national capital sustained a pair of mild jolts today in the result of the Presidential primaries in Georgia and North Dakota.

In Democratic Georgia, William G. McAdoo has won a sweeping victory over Senator Oscar Underwood of Alabama. In Republican "insurgent" North Dakota, President Coolidge has emerged with a none too impressive victory over Senators Johnson and La Follette.

La Follette, whose name was not on the ticket, ran a neck-and-neck race with Johnson, and their combined strength was far in excess of Coolidge's totdl.

A more conclusive test of the comparative strength of Coolidge and Johnson in the Northwest will be afforded next Tuesday when they will "lock horns" in South Dakota, where the La Follette influence is more pronounced.

The uneasiness of the Coolidge managers has been exemplified by their dispatch of James J. Davis, Secretary of Labor, to the state to engage in a speaking tour.

RICKARD SAYS HE "FELL FOR STORY"

FIGHT PROMOTOR TESTIFIES THAT HE WAS "BUNKED"

SINCLAIR TO BE SILENT

Before the Senate Public Lands Committee, it is Thought—Subpoenaed to Testify Tomorrow

Washington, March 20.—Tex Rickard, famous fight promoter and gambler, told the Senate investigating committee today that he had been "bunked" in the conspiracy to show the Dempsey-Carpentier fight films.

For once in his life, Rickard admitted he "fell for a story of supposed influence in Washington," and split the proceeds of the fight flims with three men who assured him they could get a law passed that would permit a nation-wide exhibit of the films.

Washington, March 20—Harry F. Sinclair, millionaire oil magnate, who leased Teapot Dome from Albert B. Fall, former Secretary of the Interior, probably will refuse to testify before the Senate public lands committee before which he has been subpoenaed for tomorrow, it was learned today.

Following the example of Fall who declined to be questioned by the oil investigators, Sinclair is expected to claim Constitutional immunity on the grounds that his testimony might incriminate him in court.

No definite decision, however, has been reached as to whether Sinclair will testify. Members of the investigating committee believe he will follow Fall's example.

They pointed out that inasmuch as Sinclair has been hailed into court on civil action and probably will be forced to answer criminal charges before a grand jury within a few weeks, he has a Constitutional right to claim immunity.

County Farm Got 96 Pigs from 8 Sows

George Brown, superintendent of the county farm, reported eight Poland-China sows had produced ninety-six pigs. These pigs are from three weeks to three days old.

It is expected this year that county farm will be self supporting as there will be enough revenue off the stock and the crops raised at the farm to pay the running expenses of the institution. The farm would have been self supporting the last two years if it had not been for the improvements that were made during that period.

A HOUSE CLEANING NEEDED

Attorney-General Daugherty denies the sensational testimony being given in Washington from day to day. Whether it is true in detail and sufficient to connect the Attorney-General with any offense against the law is not material to American citizenship generally. Enough has been disclosed within the last two months to convince any ordinary man that official honesty in many of the departments at Washington is a lost art.

With the disclosures concerning the Veterans Bureau, the Interior Department and the oil leases involving also the Navy Department, the lowering of Congressional standards, the conditions in the Department of Justice, and other official conditions, it is evident to the average reader that official immorality and disregard for public welfare has run riot in the last few years and that such a display of rottenness has not been made within many years, if ever, in the history of the Government.

In such times the Government needs an able and energetic administration that will not only call for but command the respect of law abiding citizens everywhere. That such conditions could exist as now charged by numerous witnesses before the Senate investigating committee would be a disgrace to our civilization. No more sordid and cold blooded robbery was ever committed than the systematic plundering of sick and crippled veterans of the late war.

It is a trying situation for the President with a party and personal campaign opening up immediately before him but the public looks to him for prompt and decisive action and it looks to Congress without regard to party affiliation to back him up in any reforms he may undertake in the federal departments.

So far as general Daugherty is concerned, he need not be convicted or even accused of anything wrong. He has never been regarded by the people of this country as the right man for the great office he now holds. There was a widespread protest against his appointment when he was selected by President Harding. There have been public protests ever since. The whole country now awaits the action of the President. The public can not have proper confidence in the great government at Washington until there is a change.

The President naturally does not want to act rashly; he does not want to show lack of consideration and calm judgment, but the public expects and will expect vigorous action when he does begin and it will not be satisfied with unreasonable delay. It is going to call for a general housecleaning from cellar to garret.

Pouring oil on the political waters hasn't brought any tranquility in this campaign.

General Robert E. Lee, the great Confederate leader, left a thought that would make mighty good reading for a lot of our public officials now days. At the close of the civil war, he was offered $50,000 a year to lend his name to an insurance company as president. He needed the money but he replied, "Don't you think, if my name is worth $50,000, I ought to be very careful about taking care of it?"

ARNEY ADVISES ON CARE OF CHICKS

SAYS THAT BROODER HOUSE SHOULD NOT BE TOO SMALL

PREFERS 2-ROOM HOUSE

One Room Used For Brooder and Other a Place for Young Chicks To Scratch.

This is the seventh of a series of articles written for the Democrat-Forum by Prof. G. K. Arney, vocational agricultural instructor, at the Maryville High School.

In this article Professor Arney discusses the brooder and the management of young chicks and gives valuable suggestions for their care.

Don't build brooder house too small.

Never overheat chicks, is as bad as chilling them.

Brooder Houses.

If one hatches chicks in an incubator the most economical and easiest way to raise them is under a brooder stove in a well constructed brooder house. In building a brooder house build it large enough for the number of chicks that you are expecting to raise. Allow one square foot of floor space for every three or four baby chicks. A brooder house 10 by 12 feet would care for 360 to 400 chicks.

Never crowd baby chicks because if they are crowded they will succumb to disease easier and the stronger chicks will run over those that are not quite so strong and the result is a large loss of chicks. The one-room type brooder house, if it is built large enough, is very good for the person who expects to raise only a few baby chicks and raise these rather late in the spring. For the person who expects to raise several hundred and raise them early, have them hatched in March, a two-room house is much better.

If the weather is stormy the chicks can be kept up but be allowed the run of both rooms. In a two-room house, one room is used for the brooder and kept warm, and the other is used for a scratch room and is not heated. The baby chick will run out into the cool room, scratch in the straw until its back gets cold, and then it will run back in the warm room to warm.

This is the natural way for the chick to do and if it is kept very many days in a room that is artificially heated it will tend to loose its vitality. Much stronger chicks are raised in the two-room house if they are hatched early and have to be kept up because of bad weather. If one expects to secure the maximum number of winter eggs the chicks will have to be hatched early. The winter egg is the high priced egg and in securing it will in many cases determine whether the poultry is kept at a profit or at a loss. A two-story brooder house that is 14 by 24 feet will easily care for 600 baby chicks. Such a house can be used for a laying house during the season when it is not needed for the baby chick.

Brooder houses should have either wood or concrete floors. Contrary to general opinion of a concrete floor is very satisfactory in a brooder house if the floor is underlaid with rock or cinders to prevent the rise of water through it. Never build the brooder house any higher than it is convenient for one to work in. A high house is a cold house and requires much more heat to warm. Provide sufficient number of windows to give plenty of light. Above the windows in south side of house provide two openings about two feet square. Cover these openings with a muslin cloth so that the air may enter and the foul air in the house escape. These coverings will prevent any drafts.

Management of Chicks.

Have the temperature under the hover of the brooder stove 98 to 100 degrees F., first week, 94 to 96 the second week, 90 to 92 the third week, and about 85 degrees the fourth week. In securing this temperature the thermometer should be placed so that the bulb is about high of the back of the baby chick. It should be hung under the hover near the outer edge. When first placing the chicks under the stove and for the first day and night, place a piece of woven wire about a foot high around the hover about one and one-half to two feet from the edge of the hover.

This is to keep the baby chick from wandering away from the heat before it has learned where to find the heat when it gets cold. The chick will learn this after the first day or two and then the wire can be removed. As the chicks grow and develop feathers they will tend to select certain corners in the house in which to sleep at night. Many times they will crowd in a corner and smother or smash each other to death. This can be prevented largely by putting some woven wire across these corners.

If the chicks crowd against this those that are underneath can get their heads through the wire and keep from smothering. One should also provide small roosts for the chicks as soon as they will go up on them. One can encourage the chick to go on the roost if they will put a small mesh woven wire under the roosts next to them and bring it down in front so that the chick can walk up this wire on the roosts. The roosts should not be over one foot high off the floor and they should be level.

Supply plenty of fresh warm water all the time. Supply plenty of fine grit and oyster shell. Keep a clean litter of straw on the floor in which the chicks can scratch.

Thoroughly clean and spray the brooer house once a week and if any chicks appear sick, clean and spray immediately. Spray with any standard coal tar solution. Spray the floor as well as the walls.

An excellent cast is assembled in the production and a remarkable vivid picture is the result.

WHY SUFFER SO?

Why suffer from a bad back, from sharp, shooting twinges, headaches, dizziness and distressing urinary ills? Maryville people recommend Doan's Pills. Ask your neighbor. Could you ask for stronger proof of merit?

J. N. Bryan, retired farmer, 222 West Eleventh street, Maryville, says: "I was having trouble with my kidneys and I had an intense soreness through the small of my back, which caused great pain when I tried to bend or straighten quickly. My kidneys acted too frequently. I saw Doan's Pills advertised and I started to use them. I found great relief from the start and after using Doan's awhile I was cured. It has been some time since I have needed to use Doan's Pills so I know the benefit they gave me is lasting." (Statement given June 13, 1916.)

On March 31, 1920 Mr. Bryan said: "I am glad to say Doan's permanently cured me and I wish to confirm my former statement."

(Hopkins Journal)

Another Republican is in bad—this time a Hopkins Republican, too—not oil, but maybe worse—this Hopkins Republican who was in Kansas City on business last week, is having a lot to explain and for awhile he believed himself due for an investigation He registered at one of the leading hotels of Kansas City and when he awoke the next morning he found himself encased in a night gown that did not belong to him—one with lace at the neck and all the other 'folderol' used by the gentler sex on these garments. Harry—excuse us, we meant to say, this Hopkins business man sweat blood from the time he discovered he had on the wrong gown until he reached home—not being able to satisfy himself how the exchange could have possibly been made until his wife asked him as soon as he stepped into the door why he didn't take his own gown instead of her's on the trip.

FOR INITIATIVE ON HIGHWAY TAXES

STATE HIGHWAY COMMISSION ISSUES STATEMENT TODAY

MORE MONEY NEEDED

Would Submit Proposals of Raising Funds for System to People in November

Jefferson City, March 20—An initiative proposal should be submitted to the people of Missouri at the general election next November, increasing the state registration fees of motor vehicles 50 per cent, and making a levy of a special road tax of two cents a gallon on gasoline used for fuel, a statement concerning Missouri's future roads program issued here last night by the state highway commission declared.

The license increases and the gasoline tax are necessary to carry on and complete the state road system as rapidly as possible, the statement said. The proposal should also carry a provision giving the commission authority to sell the balance of the $60,000,000 of state road bonds as funds may be needed, not exceeding $15,000,000 annually, it added.

The statement follows:

The completion of the entire state highway system of 7,640 miles of hard-surfaced roads in the shortest possible time consistent with economy and efficiency, together with adequate maintenance, is a matter of vital importance to every citizen of the State. How and when can the entire state highway system be completed is a question which has come to the Commission from every county and section of the State. The commission has been urged repeatedly to outline a plan which will remove all uncertainty and which will enable the Department to hasten the completion of the state road system.

The Commission and its engineers have given every aspect of road construction and maintenance in this State close attention. It has gathered from its own experience and the experience of other States a multitude of facts. Hence it feels justified in responding to the innumerable requests from individuals and organizations to make recommendations on ways and means of dealing with Missouri's road situation.

It is evident that the public expects the automobile owner to finance the construction as well as the maintenance of the State road system. Motor vehicle users individually and through their organizations have frequently manifested enthusiasm for speeding up the highway program, although they bear the entire cost. Most automobile owners realize the direct benefits of improved roads and are willing to pay additional fees if it will hasten the completion of the state road system and provide an adequate maintenance that will conserve all road investments. Statistics show that the difference in cost of operating an automobile over dirt roads compared with hard-surfaced roads is on an average of at least two and one-half cents per mile, according to five year test records made by the Iowa State Highway Department. Computed on this basis there is a direct loss in the way of extra gasoline, tires, and general upkeep to the motor owners of Missouri of millions of dollars annually on account of not having a completed system of hard-surfaced state roads.

Missouri ranks ninth in population, ninth in wealth, eleventh in the number of automobiles owned, but forty-first in the average per car of motor vehicle fees collected by the State for road purposes. Thirty-eight of the forty-eight States now have in addition to the motor license fees a gasoline tax of from one to four cents per gallon for the purpose of constructing and maintaining state roads. This form of tax has a great deal of merit as it imposes a tax upon the user or the roads, in proportion to the mileage traveled, whether he be a taxpayer of this State, or a tourist.

The last legislature authorized the sale of only $10,000,000 of bonds for the two years 1924 and 1925. The Commission deems it necessary to sell the full amount of $10,000,000 this year to carry on its 1924 program. The attorney general approves the legality of the sale of the $10,000,000 in the year 1924. This leaves no funds available for 1925 construction. The two main sources from which additional funds for road purposes may be provided are from the increased automobile license fees and a gasoline tax. It is hardly possible that the 1925 legislature, which convenes in January, could pass any emergency road legislation requiring an increase in motor fees by February 1, 1925, the date on which such fees are due. And again, the constitutionality of a gasoline tax passed by the legislature without the approval of the voters of the state may be questioned in the courts. The forth coming legislature would, therefore, be confronted with a difficult situation in attempting to provide sufficient funds for the 1925 program without imposing a property tax.

The Commission, therefore, would suggest the preparation of an initiative proposal to be submitted to the people at the general election next November, increasing the state registration fees of motor vehicles fifty per cent and making a levy of a special road tax of two cents a gallon on gasoline used for motor vehicle fuel and authority to sell the balance of the $60,000,000 state road bonds as funds may be needed, not exceeding $15,000,000 annually.

These recommendations have for their purpose the meeting of the present emergency and are not intended to invade the functions of the legislature. It may at any time in its wisdom fix the fees to be paid on the several classes of motor vehicles.

All additional funds available for construction derived from the above recommendation should be distributed between the so-called secondary and primary roads in the same ratio as the law now provides until the entire state road system is completed and all counties, townships, and districts are reimbursed for the roads built at their expense and accepted as a part of the state road system.

Under the proposal set out above statistics of the increasing automobile industry indicate that sufficient funds will be provided to take care of the fixed expenditures which will be necessary for the retirement of bonds, interest, collection costs, and administration expense, and to enable the Department to finish and maintain the entire state road system at a date not far beyond the time originally contemplated for the expenditure of the $60,000,000 state road bonds, without the addition of any further bonds than those already authorized by the voters.

The State Highway Department has during the past year handled a very large construction program, and is now able to handle economically a much larger volume of work than is permitted under the present law governing the expenditure of the $60,000,000 road bonds. It feels justified, therefore, in issuing the above statement knowing that additional funds are needed to complete the entire state road system, or to even make a connected system of improved roads.

Church Notes.

A good congregation was present to enjoy the services at the morning hour last Sunday. The pastor took as a theme, "Religion, a Force in Life." All the departments were represented in the Sunday school and steps were taken toward the observance of Easter. The Supt. B. K. Lewis appointed the following committee: Mrs. Grace Lewis, Mrs. Ethel Green, Mrs. Ethel Anderson, Mrs. Vilas Porter and Miss Ruth Green.

Next Saturday evening, Sunday morning and evening, the Rev. C. J. Nutt of Des Moines, traveling President of the conference will be here and preach. Those who remember the scholarly discourses he gave us when he was here before will realize the pleasure and profit to be had in again listening to him. It is hoped that there will be a good attendance at the services.

E. E. Saunders and family were attendants at the morning services last Sunday.

The snow and storm made the attendance rather light at the evening services last Sunday.

School Notes.

Third quarter's examinations were postponed to Monday and Tuesday of this week.

Everybody was present Monday morning.

Mr. Sawyers has had the racquets restrung and has also secured a supply of tennis balls. We only wait for good weather to start to begin practice on the tennis courts. The boys last week constructed a heavy roller to use in keeping the court in good condition.

Our set of regulation horse shoes, used in playing pasture polo, is sure kept in service these days.

Work has started on our Senior play under the direction of Mrs. Ford. We will give this year, "The Arrival of Kitty," a sparkling four act comedy. The date will be announced later.

The minstrel show given Friday night was well attended and everybody had a good laugh. We took in nearly twenty-five dollars.

The date of our Commencement address by Rev. Chilton of St. Joseph will be May 15th instead of the 16th as formerly announced.

Burnett Strader helped the boys in the program Friday night. Thanks Burnett.

Bonnie Malson from the Stanberry school is a new scholar at Champaign.

Shaving creams, that come in the handy tubes, evidently have displaced the old reliable shaving mugs. We heard a man say today that he was unable to secure a shaving mug at a drug store and as the last resort tried a ten cent store, and Woolworth did not even have any in stock.

Insurance Policy Value in Bonus Bill

Washington, March 20—The value of the insurance policy in the bonus bill passed by the house Tuesday may be computed by multiplying the total compensation by the proper factor in the accompanying table, prepared by the veterans' bureau.

The age of the veteran on the birthday anniversary nearest January 1, 1925, should be used.

A veteran who is 32 years old at the time the policy is issued and entitled to the maximum amount of overseas credit—$625—would be entitled to a policy equal to $625 plus $156.25—one-fourth the total compensation—multiplied by the factor. The result would be $1,966.

The table of factors:

MOVEMENT OF MO. ASSN. ENDORSED

BY ST. LOUIS C. OF C. FOR ADVERTISING CAMPAIGN.

PASSES A RESOLUTION

Urge All Citizens of State Contribute to Fund for National Publicity to Boost Missouri.

(St. Louis Globe-Democrat)

The Board of Directors of the St. Louis Chamber of Commerce unanimously adopted a resolution yesterday indorsing the movement to provide the Missouri Association with sufficient funds with which to conduct a national advertising campaign upon the advantages and attractions of Missouri, and urged that not only members of the Chamber of Commerce, but all citizens and organizations throughout the state subscribe to this movement.

The resolution sets forth the work which the association has done since its organization, a year ago at Jefferson City, at a cost of approximately $10,000, the publicity gained and the advantages accruing from securing the united efforts of various organizations throughout the state.

The resolution follows:

"Whereas, The Missouri Association was organized a year ago at Jefferson City, Mo., for the purpose of exploiting the resources of the State of Missouri and developing the various communities of the state: and,

"Whereas, In the past year this association has been able to enlist in the movement the following state-wide groups of people; namely, the Missouri Press Association, various Chambers of Commerce and commercial organizations in the state, Kiwanis, Rotary and Lions' clubs in the various communities, the Missouri Farm Bureau Federation, Federation of Women's Clubs, Missouri Bankers' Association, Missouri Teacher's Association, Missouri Millers' Club, Missouri Grain Dealers, etc.; and,

"Whereas, More than 150 of the leading business men and organizations of the cities and rural districts have taken out sustaining, individual and association memberships; and,

"Whereas, Thousands of dollars of publicity has been contributed in the form of billboard advertising by the Federation of Women's Clubs, on 1163 billbcards throughout the state explaining the purposes of the association; and,

"Whereas, Thousands of columns of publicity and a great deal of advertising has been donated by the local and neighboring state newspapers to the cause, representing thousands of dollars: and,

"Whereas, A semimonthly service bulletin has been published as part of a plan to sell Missouri to Missourians, giving facts, data and information about the state, sent out to the members and various newspapers of the state; and,

"Whereas, More than 30,000 circulars have been mailed out to Missourians during the past year; and,

"Whereas, The Missouri Association has, in the past month, launched into a program of radio publicity, which it proposes to carry out in the future at regular intervals, informing the people of Missouri, the entire nation and the world, of the advantages of the state; and,

"Whereas, Following the first address by radio, giving facts and figures about the state, letters from nine different states were received asking about Missouri and requesting literature and information; and,

"Whereas, This entire program has been carried into execution on a total expenditure of approximately $10,000; and,

"Whereas, Under the direction of the Missouri Bankers' Association, in co-operation with the St. Louis Chamber of Commerce and the Missouri Association, an analysis of the State of Missouri has been made by questionnaire to more than 1600 bankers, 833 replies being received; and by this analysis the bankers are now ready to submit to the Missouri Association such data and important information on problemsto be solved in the state, it has become imperative thatimmediate action be taken by the citizens of the state to finance the Missouri Association and give it sufficient funds to function in a big and broad way, and carry out a program of development and service, such as outlined by the purposes of this association; and,

"Whereas, It is further proposed by the directors and officers of the association to begin a publicity and advertising campaign in magazines and newspapers, setting out the resources and advantages of this great State of Missouri, showing in chart form the state's location as the hub state of our Union, showing the advantages of distribution from the two metropolis of the state—St. Louis and Kansas City; showing also the advantages of Southeast Missouri for the wonderful development undertaken by the Southeast Missouri Agricultural Bureau; the great program of development which is now being carried through by the Ozark Playgrounds Association in Southwestern Missouri; the advantages of such cities as Excelsior Springs, Missouri's National health resort and playgrounds; of our educational institutions at Columbia; of the various other towns and cities and districts in the state as to dairy, fruit, vegetable, grain and livestock farming showing the mineral resources of the state; the advantages of cotton and rice planting and manufacturing; the navigable rivers bordering on the east and west of the state, also cutting the state practically in half; the hundreds of miles of good roads, and the road building program of $60,000,000; the wonderful advantages for pleasure resorts in the Ozark Mountains in the waterfalls, fishing and game; showing Missouri as a great distribution and manufacturing center, having the shortest haul in and out to a greater number of people than perhaps any other state in the nation and various advantages which Missouri has to offer as a central gateway from north to south and from east to west, and showing the states as the "crossroad" of the United States. These and many other advantages can be shown to the nation and shown to ourselves through the Missouri Association: with these facts before us.

"Be it Resolved, That we, the directors of the St. Louis Chamber of Commerce, heartily indorse the movement of the Missouri Association; that we recommend to the citizens of St. Louis and to the citizens of the state that every individual and firm in the state become a part of this great movement. We recommend to the business concerns their earnest consideration of the advantages to be derived in their business from a development of this character. We believe that every business man and every firm in the City of St. Louis will reap a direct financial benefit from a greater development of the State of Missouri, and we therefore urge not only the members of the Chamber of Commerce, but other citizens, to co-operate in every way with the officers and directors of the Missouri Association in order that sufficient finance might be obtained to enable the Board of Directors of the Missouri Association to immediately put into execution a plan of advertising, publicity and developments for the State of Missouri.'

There is nothing like being an optimist. We know a certain man whose head is as bald as a billiard ball who says he is glad he has no hair as it saves him a lot of time that he otherwise would have to spend combing it.

From the way a lot of people act it is a lot easier to wield a hammer than it is to blow a horn.

BE PRETTY! TURN GRAY HAIR DARK

Try Grandmother's Old Favorite Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is mussy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, at a small cost.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy and [illegible]e.

SULPHUR SOOTHES UGLY, ITCHING SKIN

The First Application Makes Skin Cool and Comfortable

If you are suffering from eczema or some other torturing, embarassing skin trouble you may quickly be rid of it by using Mentho-Sulphur, declares a noted skin specialist.

This sulphur preparation, because of its germ destroying properties, seldom fails to quickly subdue itching, even of fiery eczema. The first application makes the skin cool and comfortable. Rash and blotches are healed right up. Rowles Mentho-Sulphur is applied like any pleasant cold cream and is perfectly harmless. You can obtain a small jar from any good druggist.

HEAD STUFFED FROM CATARRH OR A COLD

Says Cream Applied in Nostrils Opens Air Passages Right Up.

Instant relief—no waiting. Your clogged nostrils open right up; the air passages of your head clear and you can breathe freely. No more hawking, snuffling, blowing, headache, dryness. No struggling for breath at night; your cold or catarrh disappears.

Get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from your druggist now. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic, healing cream in your nostrils. It penetrates through every air passage of the head, soothes the inflamed or swollen mucous membrane and relief comes instantly.

It's just fine. Don't stay stuffed-up with a cold or nasty catarrh.

Facts about Child-birth

AN eminent physician has shown to thousands of expectant mothers just how to be free from dread, and from much of the suffering which many mothers experience for months, right up to the moment when the Little One arrives!

Mrs. Wm. Washington, 107 Louise Ave., Nashville, Tenn., says: "There is positively no woman on earth that would be without 'Mother's Friend' during expectancy if she only knew the value of comfort."

"Mother's Friend" is externally applied to the region of the abdomen, back and hips. It relieves the tension on nerves and ligaments as month follows month. Finally, it makes child-birth a joy instead of a painful dread.

Use "Mother's Friend" as our mothers and grandmothers did. Don't wait, start today, and meanwhile write to Bradfield Regulator Co., BA-72, Atlanta, Ga., for a free wonderful book containing information every expectant mother should have. Get a bottle of "Mother's Friend" today. It is sold by all good druggists.

Not like a clam

Clams live to themselves. You can't. You link lives with your neighbor across the street, across the state, across the continent. You are influenced by what he wants, buys, uses, enjoys.

When enough of your neighbors want, buy, use, enjoy the same thing, you begin to see advertisements about it—advertisements to arouse you to similar use and enjoyment. They paint glowing, truthful pictures . . . try to get you interested in what will really interest you.

Convenient, courteous information is yours at a minute's glance. Style, variety, price, where obtained. That minute's glance may mean the difference between buying unworthy wares and the best.

You don't want to be like a clam—even in your judgments. Read the advertisements to be guided by others' choice. When they choose something again and again, it must be good.

Each Advertisement is written to you—to help you choose—to save you money.

BEFORE TWINS WERE BORN

Was Very Miserable. Felt Lots Better After Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Wyocena, Wisconsin.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before my twins were born because my sister used it and recommended it to me. I was so I could scarcely go about my daily work I was in such misery. But after I began taking the second bottle I was feeling lots better. I took three bottles and a half before I was confined and finished the bottle while I was in bed. I got up feeling fine and have taken care of the twins alone ever since. I recommend the Vegetable Compound highly and will sing its praises in the future."—Mrs. IDA GERBITZ, Wyocena, Wis.

It is remarkable how many cases have been reported similar to this one. Many mothers are left in a weakened and run-down condition after child-birth, and for such mothers the care of the baby is well-nigh impossible. Not only is it hard for the mother, but the child itself will indirectly suffer.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is an excellent tonic for the mother both before and after child-birth. It is prepared from medicinal roots and herbs, and does not contain any harmful drugs. It can be taken in safety by nursing mothers.

SPRING MAKES IT 1924 DEBUT TODAY

DUE TO LEAP YEAR, OPENING IS ONE DAY EARLIER.

SNOW GREETS ROBINS

Day and Night Will Be Equal All Over World—Sun Rises at 6 o'Clock Local Time.

Today is the calendar day for the opening of spring. The sun will cross the equator at 4:20 o'clock, eastern standard time. The first day of spring usually comes on March 21, but owing to this being leap year, the date falls one day earlier.

Another snow was had last evening and it's cold, but spring hasn't disappointed a waiting world.

Spring is here.

Today the days and nights will be equal in length all over the world, the sun rising and setting at just 6 o'clock, mean local time. It will, however, appear to rise a few minutes earlier and set a few minutes later, because the refraction of the atmosphere makes it appear above the horizon when it is not there.

Days Longer Than Nights Now.

From the beginning of spring the days will be longer than the nights everywhere north of the equator, and the farther north the greater the difference will be.

The sun will be just beginning to rise at the North Pole today, not to set again until the sun recrosses the equator September 22, and it will be just setting at the South Pole, where the long winter night will begin.

The vernal equinox, as the date of the beginning of spring is called, will end what—from the weather point of view—has been, on the whole, a rather moderate winter. No important records were broken.

Hopkins Churches Plan a Federation

Methodists and Presbyterians Will Unite—Official Announcement Soon

(Hopkins Journal)

Banks are a good thing but four banks in Hopkins would be too many. Churches are the best investment any community can make but like banks, four in Hopkins are too many, and the Methodists and Presbyterians are to unite if present plans do not fail. The majority of the members of both congregations are not only willing but anxious that the federation takes place.

The Presbyterians have no pastor and one plan is for the federation to use the Presbyterian church edifice for preaching services and the Methodist church for the Sunday School, young people's meetings, etc. The plan has met with the approval of Rev. Allison, pastor of the Presbyterian church at Maryville, as well as the field secretary of the church who visited Hopkins with Rev. Allison Tuesday.

The official board of the Methodist church favors the plan and official announcement of the federation will likely be made soon.

Morris Strong Leads Team to Championship

Former Maryville Boy, Piloting Santa Ana, Calif. Quintet Captures Southern State Title

Morris (Buster) Strong, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard (Dick) Strong, former residents of Maryville, now living at Santa Ana, Cal., was captain of the class C (110 pound basketball players) of the Santa Ana high school. This team won the Southern California championship by defeating Alhambra's midget squad last Friday in the deciding contest.

The following from the Santa Ana Daily Register had in part the following about Strong and also had his picture in the paper:

Although Smith, Romo and Walbridge, the chief Santa Ana pointgetters, again did yeoman service in running the Alhambra goal defenders ragged, it was the spectacular guarding by the entire Santa Ana quintette and particularly by Captain Morris Strong and "Blondy" White that enabled Coach Ed Covington's cohorts to win so easily.

Lorry Walbridge, Raymond Smith and "Rudy" Romo were the high point men for the local quintette. Walbridge, stepping out in the second half with a trio of beautiful cages, ran his total for the contest up to eight. He was led only by "Ten-Point" Smith who fell one digit behind his customary total. Romo hurled three baskets in the first half but was kept well covered during the last two periods. Strong tallied three points.

Fourteen personal fouls were called during the engagement, the Alhambra crew being responsible for eight. Captain Strong was eliminated from the contest in the final period because of four fouls.

The locals finished their league in a three-cornered tie. Winning its way after two hard contests to this circuit championship it captured three consecutive melees in the play-off for the Southland crown.

Santa Ana now has the right to meet the champions of Northern California for the state title.

During their annual spring opening on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, the Holt Supply Co. offered a cultivator to the farmer drawing the lucky number. All farmers visiting the store on these three days were entitled to register for the cultivator. The drawing was held about 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Mr. Ramsey had No. 156.
